

BSRC ON CENTURY - WEDNESDAY 9 OCTOBER 2013

A quite bright morning with a fairly light wind gave us all hope of some good scores, but as the day progressed the wind picked up considerably and the idiosyncrasies of magpie alley showed up again with the wind seeming to shift from directly incoming to anywhere else on the compass at will. Sadly Daniel Goss, Tim Goddard and David Williams were unable to attend. David Hambleton decided he just wanted to zero at each distance so that he was ready for a trip to Scotland on the hinds and Myles Robertson and Steve Sims decided that discretion was the better part of valour and concentrated on running the range for us for which we were extremely grateful. Everyone apart from Alby Lyons and Geraldine Moores had at least one bad distance, but these two seemed to avoid any trouble and finished with some remarkable scores. I believe there were some first time successes on the prestigious prairie dog and Steve Lewis will add your name to the role of honour and will ensure you get the appropriate badges.
