

BSRC Chamois shoot – 27 September 2015

It is difficult to know what to say when Range Officers give up their time and make an effort to drive a considerable distance to run an event for club members and only five of them turn up to shoot, especially when three of those came over in the afternoon after shooting with other clubs in the morning.

Richard Lane made the early morning trip round the M25 from darkest Kent so he could be on the range at 0800 to help set up and act as an assistant for the day; thank you Richard.

Personally, I gave up attending a rook rifle shoot with the HBSA, something that does not happen that often, to act as RO. Aside from the personal cost to the ROs there is also the cost to the Club of hiring the targets for the day and paying the ROs travel expenses.

Perhaps the lack of attendance is down to a lack of proper publicity of the event or perhaps it is simply because BSRC now has a membership who are more interested in plinking from a bench than they are in the Clubs heritage and future or in taking part in competitions. In an attempt to try to encourage people to participate in this event next year these are the scores which have won both the Chamois and Fox since the Clubs first official venture into competition at more than 100 yards – it was from this start that the Century and Stickledown long range days evolved.

	Chamois		Fox
2003	Andrew Forte-Schaale	100	Richard Lane	79
2004	Steve Elliot	99	Rob Galbraith	76
2005	Phil Elliot	94	Paul Grannell	71
2006	No scores on record
2007	Alan Harvey	98	Steve Grant	85
2008	Steve Lewis	99	Nick Dungan	89
2009	Keith Poyser	97	Steve Wallis	98
2010	Sue Westlake-Guy	99	Steve Wallis	96
2011	Alan Harvey	96	Myles Robertson	76
2012	Steve Kale	96	Steve Reed	86
2013	No shoot this year
2014	John Kynoch	97	Keith Poyser	83

Anyway enough of my ramblings, the results. The winner of the Maddison Stein this year, with the highest score on the Chamois of 95/100, was Richard Lane. Richard also put in the highest score on the Fox with 53/100.

Steve Wallis, Range Officer.
